STRATFORD

A sad case of indulging in too much "inspiration" at a saloon close to St. Michael's cemetery, and then proceeding to commit a very serious crime, came to the notice of the authorities yesterday, and at about 9 o'clock in the morning Sheriff Stages, with his automobile, took two young men to the Bridgeport jail, where they will have to remain until bonds of $500 each have been furnished, or until they are called to trial at the December term of the criminal court. The men, each just 22 years of age, Arthur DuBoise and Albert Eysenmann, claimed they were celebrating and got so full of "inspiration" they did not know what they were doing. Born and employed in the silverware plant not far distant. They broke into one of the houses which stands nearly opposite the cemetery, and is sometimes called "Clam Shell Row," and late at night assaulted a woman, who was found in a pitiable condition. It is said there were five men in the party, but three escaped the clutches of the law.

Communion services will be held in the Methodist church tomorrow forenoon and in the evening there will be union services with Rev. Dr. Packard in the pulpit.

The Women's Aid Society held a meeting a day or two ago in the conference room, and elected Mrs. Robert Samplis president of the society. Mrs. Margaret DeLacour is the secretary and Mrs. Raymond Smith the treasurer.

Sometime in December the town is promised an "old corn hop" at the town hall. Menus of corn flakes, strabob, pop corn balls, and such like feed, would be quite appropriate.

Mrs. Mosses Hyde is visiting in Seymour.

Quite a number of ladies assembled on Thursday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott W. Peck, to attend the annual meeting of the Stratford Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

The following officers were elected: Sarah C. Smith, president; Mrs. Geo. W. Fairchild, vice president; Miss Carrie L. Peck, financial secretary; Mrs. Louise Gilbert, treasurer. The following ladies were elected to various committees: Mrs. Elliot W. Peck, Mrs. George E. Farrar, Mrs. L. W. Dunbar, and Mrs. Walter Hanford. During the afternoon Mrs. William Wilson gave selections on the piano. Miss Jessie Arbuckle was present, and in a talk, told the ladies about her home missionary work among the Italians in Brooklyn, New York.

The Italian live in this country the same as they do at home, so far as circumstances will permit. They make a great deal of weddings, funerals and christenings and drink a good deal of beer at their festivities. But the children are bright and are fast learning American customs. The society has spent $150 for missions and is doing a good deal of helpful work.

The skit, called "How the Story Goes" was given at the town hall on evening of two ago and drew an almost as large an audience as "Still Waters Run Deep." If there is anything which a Stratfordite likes it is a first class dramatic entertainment, especially when the actors are well known home folks. This little piece of kitchen gossip well staged and among the ladies who helped to rehearse the story were Mrs. Clara M. Porter, Mrs. Julia Clinton, Miss Nellie Wakelee, Mrs. Alfred W. Tracy, Mrs. Anna Towne, Mrs. Gilbert Edwards, Mrs. Addie Morehouse and Mrs. Ellsworth Wilcox. There was some disappointment over the fact that Miss Fabb and Miss Featherstone, had gone to Long Island to take part in a play. After the story had been told there was music and dancing.

Mr. DeL. Miller, a widow of 35, is the unfortunate woman who was assaulted by seven men, who broke into her house at 2 o'clock in the morning and dragged her from her bed. Five of the men escaped the officers of the law. Mr. Edward Burrill was the prosecuting Grand Juror. People are asking when Grand Juror of Van Morehouse will be given a chance to prosecute a case.

Capt. Wakeley has gone to Providence, after Newbury was given the 13th inst. the W. C. T. U. has held a meeting with Mrs. George Burbank, Mrs. Amelia Bance is home from Seymour, last night. Mrs. C. H. Pullock first came to the Neighborhood Church. With the exception of Rev. Mr. Cornwallis has been the longest pastorate in town.

One has read so much about the excellent condition of the road from Ash Creek to the Westport line, that it is really astonishing to learn any complaint is being made about Fairfield avenue, from Ash Creek, going in a westerly direction.
